Robinson Still Plans To Take S. C. School Job

SAN CARLOS — Although he will become acting superintendent of San Mateo Schools Mar. 1 upon departure of Leil L. Young for duty in the navy, Clark Robinson will not continue in that position next year, but instead will become superintendent of schools here, as originally planned.

This was stated jointly today by Robinson and A. L. Mewhirter, clerk of the San Carlos School Board, as they explained that a statement which had been made in San Mateo Saturday and published in the Tribune was in error, caused by a misunderstanding of a question.

Robinson had stated when Young announced his resignation that he would not be a candidate to fill the San Mateo office permanently, and said today he still intended to take over the San Carlos post July 1.

The leaning tower of Pisa recently was strengthened by injection of cement into its foundation.

The marine corps now has about 44,000 enlisted men and 3000 officers.

Announces Big Radio Show

Spyros P. Skouras, National head of Greek War Relief Association, who announces the hour and fifteen minute program of screen personalities to broadcast over radio station KGO at 8:15 Saturday night from Grauman's Chinese Theater. Tune in to hear Bob Hope, Jack Benny, Fanny Brice, Mickey Rooney, Charles Laughton, and many dozens more on this great radio show.

San Carlos Opens Annual Budget Drive

SAN CARLOS — The annual Central Budget Drive to raise funds for the Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA and Preventorium opened Monday. A meeting to make final plans was held last night under chairmanship of Victor Gile.

The town has been divided into districts with the following chairmen appointed to date: Mrs. Phillip D. Hirrel, Ray E. Darling, Martin Sword, Allan Boyce and George E. Forbes.

Greek War Relief Broadcast Planned

Originating as a benefit show for the Greek War Relief Association, a broadcast will emanate from Grauman's Chinese Theater in Hollywood from 8:15 to 9:45 p.m. Saturday over Radio Station KGO.

Nearly 50 of Hollywood's entertainers will take part in the program, which will be given before an audience of notables who will have paid $10 a ticket to the Greek war relief to gain admission.

Among stars taking part in the program are Jack Benny, Bob Hope, Bette Davis, George Burns and Gracie Allen, the "Hardy Family"—including Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker, Ann Rutherford, Fay Holden and Sara Haden—Fannie Brice and Hanley Stafford, Madeleine Carroll, Ronald Colman, Bob Crosby, Alice Faye, Clark Gable, Charles Laughton, Carole Lombard, Myrna Loy, Mary Martin, Tony Martin, Groucho Marx, Frank Morgan, Paul Muni, Merle Oberon, "Rochester," James Stewart, Spencer Tracy and Robert Young.

Six Pay Speeding Fines in Court Here

Six persons were fined last week by Judge E. I. McAuliffe, for speeding, two were fined for failing to stop at an arterial and another paid $10 for failing to heed the right-of-way.

The speeders were: Sam S. Sieger, 25, Los Angeles, $10; Joseph A. Greco, 42, Jay E. Cupples, 60, George R. Palmgren, 45, and Frank L. Paganini, 26, all of San Francisco, $5 each; Ripley W. Joy, 25, Redwood City, $5.

Harold Williams, 30, Palo Alto, and William C. Garrett, 19, Stanford University, each paid $2.50 for failing to heed an arterial stop sign, and Virgil E. Harkins, 41, of Menlo Park, paid the $10 for failure to yield right-of-way. All were cited by the highway patrol.

Spring Concert Slated By Bel Canto Chorus

Tuesday, Mar. 11, at 8 p.m. has been set as the time for the Spring concert of Redwood City's Bel Canto Chorus.

With Eugene Fulton directing, the chorus will present its concert in Sequoia High School Auditorium. The stage of the auditorium will be rearranged to provide better accoustics, with the concert committee under J. E. Spence making the changes.

The chorus is also considering making several appearances in nearby cities.

19 Seniors Graduate

Nineteen Sequoia High School students completed their school work at mid-term and have been graduated, Miss Juliane Wolters, registrar, announced here. No ceremony is held at mid-year, and the graduates may either get their diplomas now, or wait until the June graduation exercises.

Most of the mid-year graduates plan to enter San Mateo Junior College or San Jose State College, while others are taking jobs.

The graduates are Alvin Brown, Lorraine Cross, Helen Cutting, James DaMant, Kathryn Foppiano, Rebello Gauzzi, Walter Gillman, Katsumi Inouye, Wanda Leonhart, Lois Linebarger, Alexander Morrison, Johnniemae Malick, Norval Norman, Glenn Ottsman, Virgil Paulsen, Ellen Schiff, Herbert Smith, Joseph Steck and James Wilkie.

Local Home Damaged By Second-Floor Fire

A fire which started in a second-floor bedroom closet did $900 worth of damage to the Primo Mileti home, 104 Nueva St., Redwood City, Sunday.

Firemen, summoned by an alarm at 8:18 p.m., extinguished the fire before it could spread to other parts of the house. The closet and bedroom were badly damaged, as was furniture in the bedroom. The entire upper floor of the house suffered extensive smoke damage.

The family, downstairs at the time, discovered the fire when they investigated the smell of smoke.

In the absence of any other known cause for the blaze, firemen theorized that it might have started from spontaneous combustion in clothing in the closet.

Yesterday afternoon, at 2:56 o'clock, firemen were called to 620 Chilton St., where a car owned by a Mr. Drew of San Bruno had caught fire, but the owner had put out the blaze before firemen arrived. Damage was slight.

NAMED TO G.O.P. OFFICE

SAN MATEO—In addition to her duties as state secretary of the Young Republicans of California, Mrs. Eleanor D. Nettle, San Mateo, today is secretary of the national organization, having been elected to that office at the national convention at Des Moines, Iowa.

'Doomed Caravan'

After a five-month layup in the hospital as a result of a broken leg sustained when his horse bolted, William Boyd, better known to millions of action fans as "Hopalong" Cassidy, is back in another "Hopalong" adventure, "Doomed Caravan," which opens Sunday at the Redwood Theater on a dual program with "Haunted Honeymoon."

Movie Star's Brother Cited for Speeding

Jack Temple, 25-year-old brother of the juvenile movie star, Shirley Temple, is scheduled to appear in the justice court of E. I. McAuliffe in Redwood City Feb. 21 at 10 a.m. to answer charges of speeding 80 miles an hour on Bayshore Hwy. Sunday morning while on his way to San Francisco Airport, where he and Miss Miriam Ellsworth of Los Altos took a plane to Reno to be married.

Temple was cited by Patrolman Frank Chevalier after the youth had first stopped when he saw the officer parked in East Palo Alto and requested a police escort to the airport because he was in a hurry to catch the plane. Chevalier explained that he could not escort him, and warned him to "take it easy." When Temple started off, however, he drove at rapid speed,

San Carlo Opera Co. Due in S. F. Mar. 10

SAN FRANCISCO—The San Carlo Opera Co., now on its 31st annual transcontinental tour of the United States, will come to San Francisco's six million dollar War Memorial Opera House for a two weeks' Spring Season of Grand Opera, starting Mar. 10. A total of 17 performances will be given of standard operas in French, Italian and English.

The annual visit of this company to San Francisco will again be a major event to students in Northern California and Nevada. Already, according to Tom C. Girton, local manager, there have been heavy advance reservations from grammar schools, high schools and junior colleges.

The season will open with San Francisco's first performance in English of Puccini's ever popular "Madame Butterfly." The famous Japanese prima donna, Hizi Koyke, whom critics claim to be the greatest Butterfly of all time, will have the title role. The two other performances to be given in English will be "Martha" and "Tales of Hoffman."

Ticket prices for the performances continue to make the San Carlo season the lowest priced grand opera to be heard in the Opera House, prices ranging from $1.75 to 75c. Although tickets go on sale at Sherman, Clay & Co. on Feb. 17, mail orders are now being received at the office of Tom C. Girton, 26 O'Farrell St.

Mrs. Mary Cronin Dies At Redwood City Home

After a period of failing health, Mrs. Mary Cronin of Redwood City died Monday at her home on Clifford Ave. where she had been living with her son, Patrick.

Mrs. Cronin, a native of Ireland, was the wife of the late Patrick Cronin. She had been a resident of Redwood City for 15 years.

Besides her son, other surviving relatives are three children, Mrs. Ann McIntyre of Los Gatos and Margaret and John Cronin of Redwood City; two sisters, Mrs. P. Lyons and Mrs. T. Brassill; a brother, Matthew Twomey, all of San Francisco; and a grandson, Richard McIntyre of Los Gatos.

Safety Equipment Bought For Coastside Beaches; Guard Unit Plea Renewed

Renewed efforts to obtain a U. S. Coast Guard station for the San Mateo County Coastside were reported here simultaneously with the announcement that the county itself had taken steps to provide safety equipment on the main swimming beaches.

While Mal Coombes, county recreation superintendent, was preparing a report on Coastside swimming conditions which will include a recommendation that the board of supervisors apply for a Coast Guard station at Half Moon Bay, life buoys were being distributed to four beaches as a means of preventing future drownings.

Ronald L. Campbell, secretary of the county recreation commission, said that six buoys and lifelines had been purchased with the approval of County Executive Frederick Peterson. The buoys, described as pointed at each end, will be attached to long lines and placed on the beaches. In case of emergency a rescuer can swim into the surf with the buoy, reach a stranded swimmer and have persons on shore drag them both to safety. Both rescuer and rescued will be supported by the buoy.

SPREAD OVER COAST

The life saving equipment recommended for use by the American Red Cross and the Coast Guard, is being placed as follows: Two units at Half Moon Bay, one each at Montara, Thornton Beach and Sharp Park and one extra at the Half Moon Bay Fire Department.

Campbell said the use of a breeches buoy (a gun-firing apparatus used to shoot lines to persons in distress) and a lifeboat similar to those used by the Coast Guard, both of which had been recommended for use on the Coastside, had been found impractical for use there.

Meanwhile, it was indicated that chances were favorable for obtaining a Coast Guard station at Half Moon Bay—a long-sought move which has resulted from the many fatalities and near-tragedies in the coast surf.

Harry N. Clark of Miramar, president of the San Mateo County Western Progressive Association, said Coast Guard officials had definitely indicated a station could be secured for Half Moon Bay if county officials took proper action.

'UP TO SUPERVISORS'

"It's strictly up to the supervisors to act," Clark said. "They are the custodians of the beaches. If they go about it right there is no reason why they can't get a Coast Guard station."

Coombes' report, which will be a consolidation of information and data collected as the result of several drives made for Coastside safety, will be presented to the county executive in the near future for his approval. Then, it is expected, Peterson will turn it over to the supervisors with the recommendation that they make formal application to the Coast Guard for a station at Half Moon Bay.

Clark said that Coast Guard officials had pointed out that their organization was not set up to patrol beaches as such because their work is primarily concerned with ships in distress at sea. He added, however, that they had stated they would assist in rescuing swimmers should they be called upon.

Supervisor Alvin S. Hatch of Half Moon Bay said the Coast Guard had been contacted on the Half Moon Bay proposal and that federal authorities seemed favorably inclined toward the plan.

Further discussion of Coastside safety problems will be held Feb. 24 when the Western Progressive Association and the Half Moon Bay Chamber of Commerce hold a joint meeting at Moss Beach, Clark announced.

HELD ON THEFT CHARGE

Genobie Garcia, 912 Arguello St., Redwood City, was accused in Palo Alto today of taking an overcoat, gloves, flashlight and several other articles from the car of Allen L. David, Palo Alto, who told police he saw them in Garcia's car after missing them from his own. Garcia, who was arrested in Mayfield, denied guilt. He will be tried in Palo Alto Police Court next Monday at 2 p.m.

New Station For Belmont

BELMONT—Erection of a new building on General Electric Co. property at Belmont to house a new 50,000-watt non-commercial radio station which will carry American programs from San Francisco to Latin America, Asia, the Antipodes and South Africa will be begun here soon.

According to Raymond M. Alvord, GE vice president in charge of the company's Pacific district, the station will be KGEI, which since the opening of the Golden Gate International Exposition in 1939 has been broadcasting with 20,000 watts of power from the Palace of Electricity on Treasure Island. Construction permit for the new powerful transmitter has just been received from the Federal Communications Commission.

Offices and studios of the station will be in the Fairmont Hotel on Nob Hill in San Francisco, where 3000 square feet of floor space will be remodeled immediately. W. P. Day is the architect for the Belmont building and the Fairmont Hotel studios. Station officials expect to move from Treasure Island about the first of May.

Station KGEI broadcasts on short wave 12½ hours a day. From 4 to 9:15 a.m. and from 10 p.m. to 12:15 a.m., the station sends programs in English on a directional beam to Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, China, Japan, Netherlands, East Indies, French Indo-China, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. It is the only United States station heard in the Orient. From 4 to 9 p.m., the station broadcasts in Spanish and English on a directional beam to Latin America.

The station is non-commercial and is operated by General Electric to build good will between the United States and other countries. R. S. Peare, Schenectady, N. Y., is manager of broadcasting for General Electric. E. T. (Buck) Harris, former San Francisco newspaperman, is manager of KGEI and H. M. Schools is engineer in charge of technical operations.

Three Hours' Resuscitation Efforts Fail

SAN MATEO—Despite untiring efforts of five firemen who worked over his body for three hours and five minutes, 22-month-old Carston Dallas Schmidt Jr. was dead today—victim of a drowning in the 10-inch-deep fish pond in the back yard of his home at 502 East Santa Inez Ave.

The child was found, face down in the pond, shortly before noon Sunday by his grandmother, Mrs. Alma Heath, who had been staying with him while his parents went after their other child, Alma, 5, who had been attending Sunday School, firemen said.

She had been watching the playing youngster, and had seen him about 11:40 a.m. In just a few minutes he had disappeared, and she sought to get him in sight again when she spotted his red sweater in the pool. Horrified, she picked up his body and summoned a physician, who had the baby taken to the San Mateo firehouse where Capt. Henry Henrioulle, Asst. Chief Elmer Wright and Firemen Cecil Morris and Jack Gibsen started working over him with an inhalator and with artificial respiration.

Later Harvey Jensen, Burlingame fireman, brought his department's resuscitator, and the five firemen worked until 3 p.m. before deciding their labors were futile.

They later explained that while they had thought the boy was dead on arrival, they took no chances in view of the fact he was believed to have been in the water only 5 minutes or so.

The body was taken to the William F. Crosby Mortuary.

'Bud' Durnam 'Bails Out' Of Navy Plane Over Bay

Although neither the victim of the mishap himself nor U. S. Navy officials will do much talking about it, an accident which caused John N. (Bud) Durnam of Redwood City to "parachute" to a landing somewhere along they Monday is in the records today and an official board of inquiry is to be convened later this week to find out how it happened.

Durnam, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Durnam of 29 Clinton St., Redwood City, was riding in a navy plane over the East Bay shore, near the San Mateo Bridge, with a navy instructor at the controls, according to information which got out someway—much to the surprise of Durnam.

Suddenly, Durnam, who joined the navy only Jan. 15, found himself out of the plane, hurtling toward the earth. He pulled the ripcord of his parachute and landed safely, and the pilot-instructor took the plane back to the Oakland airport.

In talking to his parents by telephone last night, Durnam said he was unhurt, and was surprised that newspapers, which had previously telephoned his home, had learned of the mishap, because no one saw it, to his knowledge.

Durnam, a Sequoia High School and Sacramento Junior College graduate, had been employed with a surveyor prior to going last month to Oakland, where he was to train for a month before being sent to Pensacola, Fla.

Wave Sweeps Woman, 68, Into Ocean

HALF MOON BAY — In the midst of a campaign to secure adequate life-saving facilities for the Coastside, the beach at Half Moon Bay had claimed another victim today.

She was Mrs. W. O. Nemitz, 68, of Oakland, who was swept into the surf Tuesday about 4 p.m. at the foot of Kelly Ave. while she was posing, with her back to the water, for a snapshot being taken by her daughter, Mrs. G. M. Berger, with whom she had lived for the past year after coming to California from Yakima, Wash.

Mrs. Nemitz, her daughter and her son-in-law had come to the beach for an outing. Mrs. Nemitz was wading in the surf to ease diabetic pains and stood in ankle deep water while her daughter took several pictures. Suddenly a huge breaker knocked Mrs. Nemitz off her feet and the undertow swept her out of sight before a move could be made to save her.

Coast Guardsmen were summoned and their Amphibian plane from Mills Field flew over the area but it was not until an hour and fifteen minutes later that her body was sighted, being buffeted around by another breaker. A guardsman, with a rope tied around his waist, then recovered the body, and artificial respiration was applied, but to no avail.

The body was taken first to the Dutra Funeral Home, then to the Truman Mortuary in Oakland preparatory to being shipped to Yakima.

Retired Salesman Dies at EPA Home

George Campion, 86, retired grocery salesman who had lived for the past 22 years at 2193 University Ave., East Palo Alto, passed away of a heart attack Tuesday afternoon. He was found dead, lying on a couch in his home, when neighbors investigated to see why he hadn't been out during the day.

Mr. Campion leaves a stepson, Nadeau L. Bourgeault of San Francisco. Mrs. Campion has been dead a number of years.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK—Mr. and Mrs. Cluff have returned to Menlo Park after an absence of 10 years at Los Gatos and are occupying their home on Laurel Ave. Mrs. Cluff recently retired from the San Francisco school department, where she had taught for over 30 years.

★ ★ ★

A movement has started to extend Oak Grove Ave. to connect with Bayshore Hwy. It is now a cul de sac but if extended would cross the Flood property and Bay Rd. This would help Menlo Park as some of the Bayshore traffic would be diverted to this locality.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mary Cronin, who passed away in Redwood City recently, was well known here, having resided on Mills Ave. for a long time. She has many friends in the locality who regret her passing.

★ ★ ★

Jack Welsh left this week with a party of friends for Soda Springs to enjoy skiing there where the snow is 10 feet deep.

★ ★ ★

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Morey was baptised in the Church of the Nativity last Sunday. This makes the third son of the family receiving the sacrament in the church.

★ ★ ★

An executive of a large Eastern chain store was here this week looking for a location. He was shown a choice piece of property on Santa Cruz Ave. west of the highway which may be purchased. The concern will employ 20 people if it decides to engage in business here.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Ystrom, pastor of the Philadelphia Church on Oak Grove Ave., has returned after a month's speaking tour of churches in his diocese.

★ ★ ★

The entertainment to be given by local talent on Mar. 15 and 17 in the gymnasium at the parochial school promises to be largely attended. The players rehearse often. A good program has been arranged for so all who attend may be assured of plenty of amusement.

★ ★ ★

Miss Betty Sanchez, formerly of Menlo Park, was married in Reno last Sunday to a wealthy young businessman of San Francisco. Miss Sanchez has made her home in the city for some years. She is a very charming and pretty girl.

Dickinson Begins Highway Patrol Duties

Robert P. Dickinson, 29, of Canada Rd., Woodside, was in Sacramento today to start a course of training with the State Highway Patrol with 30 other recruits. Dickinson, who for several years has operated a private police patrol in the Woodside and South San Mateo County areas, was appointed to the state organization from a civil service list. After four weeks of training, he and the other patrol "rookies" will be assisted to posts, chiefly near national defense encampments where "additions are badly needed," according to Chief Raymond E. Cato.

Also in the training group is Clayton E. Roberson of Palo Alto.

Dickinson's service, now serving Woodsiders, is being continued on, and calls are still being taken at his home (Woodside 410) for the time being.

THREE BOND ISSUES PUT ON BALLOT FOR MARCH 25

The way was cleared today for Redwood City to open one of the "most spirited," "hardest fought" — even "bitterest" —campaigns ever seen in Redwood City.

The words quoted are those used Monday when the city council voted — unanimously although with some qualifications—to submit to voters of the city three bond issues, probably on Tuesday, Mar. 25, date provisionally set for the election.

Three proposed bond issues will be on the ballot:

1. For $150,000 to finance improvements and extension of facilities at the city-owned Port of Redwood City.

2. For $75,000 for purchase of new recreation facilities, including the much discussed 6½-acre parcel of oak-studded property lying along the Southern Pacific tracks just south of the depot and known as "Butcher Field" because years ago it was the site of slaughter houses.

3. For $25,000 to finance improvement of existing recreation areas, including the Recreation Center site on Chestnut St. and Bayshore Hwy. where the Fourth of July celebration was staged last year.

ALL VOTE YES—BUT

The motion to put all three proposals on the ballot "so the people may decide" was carried by an "aye" vote on roll call of each councilman — Floyd D. Granger, George W. McNulty, Evans A. Fletcher, Louis C. Christensen, William M. Werder and Mayor Harold F. Anderson—but it didn't mean, councilmen pointed out, that they were in favor of all the issues.

In fact, Councilman Fletcher came out definitely against the $75,000 issue to buy new properties at this time, and Councilman McNulty said he agreed with him, although he also favored putting the issue to a vote.

In addition, A. H. Davies, Chevrolet dealer who has secured an option on "Butcher Field," voiced new opposition to the placing of the measure on the ballot, giving new reasons why he believed the property logically should be developed for business instead of recreation, and strongly hinting that if the city did try to buy the area for the quoted price of $55,000, it would find that the price was no longer that figure.

'NOT NOW FOR SALE'

"The property is not now for sale," Davies declared, and added, "You represent it as being available for a price that is no longer the existing price."

This was answered by Mayor Anderson, however, with the disclosure that under terms of the bond issue as planned, as much as the full $75,000 could be spent on purchase of "Butcher Field" if it became necessary, although it is hoped that it can still be bought for the $55,000 price originally quoted by the Southern Pacific and for which it will be sold to Davies, under terms of an option he has secured from the railroad.

Davies also expressed confidence that the bond issue would be defeated, but Wrex W. Cruse, president of the sponsoring Commuters Club, said afterwards that he felt certain it would carry, pointing out that many people in the residential area favored it.

Restricted Parking Around Courthouse Poses Problem

The parking problem in the neighborhood of the courthouse as the result of a discussion of faces at least partial solution, the matter at the Redwood City City Council meeting Monday.

A vacant lot next to the California Highway Patrol building on Middlefield Rd. is available as a parking lot, Mayor Harold F. Anderson informed the council, and this should provide parking accomodations for quite a few of the courthouse visitors.

City Manager C. L. Dimmitt said the county would probably be willing to level the lot, which the owner will "loan" as a parking area without charge.

Superior court judges and other county officials have complained to Mayor Anderson and Dimmitt about the lack of parking space around the courthouse, and particularly about the parking tags which jurors and witnesses have found on their cars after leaving the courthouse.

Mayor Anderson proposed that the parking limit signs be removed from Marshall St. behind the courthouse, to provide parking space for jurors and witnesses.

Chief of Police C. L. Collins said such an unlimited parking zone would be useless. Store employes would have the spaces filled up before the courthouse opened in the mornings, he said. Dimmitt suggested that the signs on the other side of Marshall St. be removed.

A. S. Kimberly, a member of the audience, offered the suggestion that the courts issue parking cards, good only for those having official business on the days indicated on the cards. The cards would be stuck in the windshields of parked cars, and policemen would be instructed to permit such cars unlimited parking privileges.

No action was taken on the suggestions.

Pair Escape Death In Plunge Into Bay

Forced off the western end of the San Mateo Bay Bridge approach into a mud flat Monday night, Edward E. Snyder, Burlingame printer, and Mrs. Snyder escaped death by drowning only because there was a low tide at the time. It took Snyder 10 minutes to free his wife from their crashed car, which came to rest nose-down in a water-filled ditch. Mrs. Snyder suffered a cracked rib and bruised knee. Her husband suffered a gash on his forehead.

Snyder told police another car struck his and forced it off the highway. Driver of the other machine, James A. Hunter, 23, San Francisco jockey, was arrested on a reckless driving charge.

Mrs. Lillian Peterson, 26, of San Pedro, suffered minor injuries at 7:25 a.m. today as the result of a collision on Bayshore Hwy. just south of the underpass at East Palo Alto, the highway patrol reported. Automobiles involved were driven by Mrs. Peterson's husband, Marvin E., 26, and Casper H. Hansen, 21, Palo Alto.

The nation's entire electoral college has met in a body only once—seven years ago. In other election years they have met in their respective state capitals.

Improved Service

Council Votes To Aid Operator of Bus Line To Purchase Equipment

Redwood City will have improved bus facilities within two months, the city council indicated Monday when it approved its committee's recommendations for providing the new facilities by underwriting the private bus line operator.

The council unanimously favored the report of the committee, consisting of Councilmen Louis C. Christensen, Floyd D. Granger and George W. McNulty and City Manager C. L. Dimmitt, and instructed City Atty. Albert Mansfield to draw up a franchise and agreement between R. F. Martin, operator of the bus system, and the city, to provide for the increased service contemplated in the bus committee's report.

Martin proposes to use the same two routes his single bus now follows on an hourly schedule, but will buy two new buses and provide 30-minute service on both routes between 7 a.m. and 10 a.m., 20-minute services from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., 30-minute service between 3 p.m. and 7:25 p.m., and two trips for evening service. The half-hour schedule from 3 p.m. to 7:25 p.m. would have variations due to train arrivals, and two extra early morning trips—at 6 a.m. and 6:30 a.m.—are also planned.

ROUTES LISTED

Routes A and B start at Main St. and Middlefield Rd., going along Main St. to Broadway, and along Broadway to El Camino Real.

From Broadway and El Camino Real intersection, Route A follows Broadway to Brewster Ave., along Brewster to Alameda de las Pulgas, along Alameda to Edgewood Rd., along Edgewood to Turnsworth Ave., along Turnsworth to Arlington Rd., along Arlington to Oakdale St., along Oakdale St. and Duane St. to Brewster Ave., and thence along Brewster, Broadway and Main St. to Middlefield Rd.

Route B, from Broadway and El Camino Real, follows El Camino Real to Jefferson Ave., thence along Jefferson Ave. to King St., along King St. to James Ave., along James Ave. to Ruby St., along Ruby St. to Jefferson Ave., along Jefferson to Valota Rd., along Valota to Roosevelt Ave., along Roosevelt Ave. to Ebener St., along Ebener St. to Oak Ave., along Oak Ave. to El Camino Real, thence along El Camino Real to Broadway and along Broadway and Main St. back to Middlefield Rd., the starting point of both routes.

12-PASSENGER BUSES

Martin agrees, the committee report states, to furnish two new 12-passenger buses, keeping the present bus for extra or emergency use. The bus operator estimates the average monthly operating expense at $700, compared with a present average monthly operating expense of $400. He asks the city to underwrite his expanded service to the extent of $300 monthly for the first two months and $200 monthly for the next six moths.

The city actually would only make up any deficit he might incur during this period, based upon a monthly statement of operating expense and revenue to be prepared by Martin and submitted to City Manager Dimmitt. The city's total contribution should not exceed $1800 in any event, the committee report states.

Provision is made for repaying the city "when and if" the bus line shows a net profit, half of the net profit to be paid into the city treasurer until the money advanced by the city has been fully repaid.

MAXIMUM FIGURE

Martin, the committee reported, considered $1800 more than would be necessary to cover any deficit, but submitted that figure as a maximum. The committee's recommendations include a franchise for Martin for an indeterminate term, without cost to Martin for the first two years, and thereafter he would pay 2 per cent of the gross revenue for the franchise.

Paul A. McCarthy, sitting in the audience, suggested that the city set a valuation on the franchise in case it might come up for sale at some future date — just as a precaution. The council accepted his recommendation as a good point.

Mayor Harold F. Anderson commended the bus committee for its work and said transportation was a growing problem in the community.

"We have a problem of providing transportation for outlying districts," he said. "Mr. Martin has provided service for the city . . . but it is at a point now where he needs new buses, and needs some help from the city to provide them.

"Personally, I want to place my approval on the recommendations of the committee."

'VITAL TO CITY'

Councilman Evans A. Fletcher added:

"Transportation is very vital to the growth of a city; also to new homes; also to the merchants. It meets with my approval."

Councilman Fletcher moved that City Attorney Mansfield be instructed to launch the proceedings to carry out the committee's recommendations, and Councilman William M. Werder seconded.

The mayor said he hoped that Martin would not have to rely too much on the city's underwriting of his service—inasmuch as the operator would eventually have to repay the city.

City Manager Dimmitt said the bus fair would remain unchanged from the present charges of 10 cents, 15 cents for round trips.

"Under the franchise the city probably will retain some form of control over the rates," Dimmitt said. "We might even reduce the fare if it seems justified some time in the future. It is not justified at present."

Woodsider, 20, Dies After Month's Illness

Howard Milton Riley, 20-year-old racetrack groom, died at a San Mateo hospital Tuesday following a month's illness. He was a native of Portland, Ore., and had been residing with a cousin, Mrs. Carrie Riley, on Miramontes Rd., Woodside.

Mr. Riley is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Riley of St. Louis; four brothers, Henry, Gene and Kenneth Riley of St. Louis and Owen Riley of Portland, and a sister, Marie Riley, of Seattle. The body will be shipped by the Crosby Mortuary at Burlingame to St. Louis for funeral services.

Dairyman Acquitted In Mewes Death

Frank M. Morisoli, 53, Chualar dairyman accused of negligent homicide in the Oct. 29 traffic death of Frederick C. Mewes, 61, Redwood City real estate man, was acquitted here by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt after a court trial. Morisoli originally pleaded guilty and asked probation, but last week he changed his plea to innocent and waived a jury trial.
